Dear Georges

COST Action: European Monetary Unification from antiquity to modern times

I am writing to offer my wholehearted support for this bid.

We have arrived at an extremely important moment in the monetary unification project in Europe, and it is extremely important that we have a full, interdisciplinary and historically deep knowledge base from which to consider the important questions that lie ahead. This COST Action is uniquely well-suited to undertaking this task.

I very much hope that funding will be forthcoming: some extremely valuable research will come out of this, drawing on a spectrum of social science and humanities expertise.
